- They multiply and fill a space in no time

Perennials are plants that live for several seasons, having a life cycle that is more than two years long. These are a great addition to a landscape to provide seasonal color year after year.

The guide in the following pages shows you the flower, explains the plant's habit, it's height and spread and what type of sun conditions it needs to thrive.

Perennials grow and can often be split after a few years of growth in the ground.

Use this guide to help your guests design an ever changing garden that can flower with different colors all summer/fall long.

The internet is an excellent source to help with design and care of perennials.

We try to ship the perennials to the store in color or bloom if possible. We know color sells, and makes it easier for the guest to design their garden.

Please remind guests, the plant will flower the following year according to the schedule in the book. This will help them time out their changing blooms.

Our availability is updated weekly on your order form. We offer Quart, #1 Pot, They are in Terricota pot for Sun, Black or Grey for Shade.
